MEET DELTA FIVE

The Automated Insect Monitoring System

- Over 90% effective at notifying you before a customer
- Forward thinking, a smart device that uses IoT technology
- Be alerted to pests missed during treatment or new introductions
- Automatic alerts direct to a phone or email
- Photo of the capture for easy identification
- Proactive way to always know what's present in your accounts, alerting you that treatment is needed
- Reduce customer-pest encounters

Arrive Prepared!

Reduce visual inspection time and be more efficient while on the job.

How it works.

The compact Automated Insect Monitoring System discreetly attaches to a wall or surface behind the bed. It is positioned and placed in a way that will not interfere with homeowners, hotel guests or housekeeping protocols.

The all-natural, odorless lure is designed to attract bed bugs and other insects. The cameras located in the device are triggered by the presence of a bug, with an image of the pest immediately emailed to the contact(s) of your choice.

The device connects to a property's existing WiFi network and includes a software dashboard that provides a history of all occurrences, documentation records that help with treatment decisions, and reporting of any pest activity that may be required.

Improve Your Service Offering

Now you can monitor your client accounts with 24/7 remote pest monitoring, including bed bugs. Our green, eco-friendly smart device will alert you of a pest capture with a photo sent direct to a phone or email. Delta Five can help pest professionals avoid customer-pest encounters and supports an Integrated Pest Management (IPM) approach.
